Bay St. Louis' municipal primary election held Saturday, October 3, resulted in the nomination of the present administration, carrying the ticket as a whole and in ample majority.

Since the primary in Mississippi is tantamount to a regular election, this insures the return of Mayor Blaize, Commissioner W. L. Bourgeois and Commissioner H. Grady Perkins for a consecutive second term, beginning January 1, 1937.

Regular election will be held December 8 in conformity with State law. The corrupt practices law, under which the primary was held, and for the first time in this city, will not apply to the regular election in December.

This was the first time in the history of the city that two voting precincts had been provided for and used. This was done in order to accommodate, within the time given, for casting of so many ballots.

North Precinct voting headquarters were located on the first floor of the city hall, that portion occupied by Dr. C. M. Shipp, county health officer. South voting precinct occupied that space of ground floor, front, City Hall.

Officers for the Day
North Bay St. Louis Precinct—Leo G. Ford, J. E. Erwin and John Scalfie, managers; E. F. Ramond and Roger M. Boh, clerks. Peace and returning officer, Clarence Soule.
South Bay St. Louis Precinct—Henry T. Fayard, Sr., John Damborino, J. C. Roland, Jr., managers; Roy J. Craft and Roger A. Heitzmann, clerks. Peace and returning officer, George Heitzmann.

Committee Canvass Results.
Members of the City Democratic Executive Committee, composed of E. J. Arceneaux, Arthur A. Scalfie and C. G. Morde, met Monday afternoon at the City Hall and canvassed the returns after which they officially declared G. Y. Blaize, for Mayor, and W. L. Bourgeois and H. Grady Perkins for commissioners, the nominees and issued the proper certificates therefor. Their act concluded the municipal campaign and subsequent election proceedings for 1936, to hold until 1940.

Nature never was brighter fall and the sun of early autumn never smiled more benignly than on election day. It was a day of perfect blends, neither too warm nor too cool. It was well for it brought out a heavy vote.

The campaign did not seem to arouse undue interest. On the contrary it was one of seeming peace and harmony all down the line. But on election day, voters as their duty of good citizens came out in the inviting sunshine and cast their respective ballots.

There were no issues during the campaign. There were no complaints or fight made on the incumbent city board. It had served efficiently and well, giving a thorough business-like administration and that the majority of votes cast were for the incumbents served as a commendation for the present and recommendation for the future. It was stamp of approval and well deserved.

FLIER'S LICENSE GRANTED BOY ON SIXTEENTH FETE

Chapman Marshall, Bay St. Louis, Probably Youngest Pilot.

(N. O. Times-Picayune)
Chapman Marshall of Bay St. Louis, Miss., is probably the youngest pilot in the United States this morning. He was awarded a student pilot's license Monday, his 16th birthday anniversary. A flier's license cannot be issued to anyone under that age.

Marshall, a first-year student at Bay St. Louis High School and a son of Carl Marshall, Mississippi attorney, took two and a half hours' flying instruction from his uncle, Henry B. Chapman, Monday at Shushan Airport and then flew solo for 10 minutes. Two hours of training previously had been given him by his uncle, president and instructor of the Chapman Air Service at the flying field.

"The boy has always wanted to fly, so Monday, when he became 16 years old, he got his license in Mississippi, came over here to finish his instructions, and then took up a two-seater plane solo," Mr. Chapman said. "His father flies, too, and I believe he will buy the boy a plane of his own."

Young Marshall's only reason for wanting a license is that he has always wanted to be able to fly a plane by himself, Mr. Chapman said. And the instructor added: "Tuesday sometime someone else in the United States may become 16 years old and get a license. But Monday I think the 'youngest' honor belonged all to my nephew."

Leonell Arceneaux was elected patrol leader, and the following were elected patrol leaders and assistants. Jo Olson, patrol leader of the Black Panther patrol, with Annie Sue Ingram, assistant; Blue Bird, Bertha Irene Koch and Rena Nelson; Eagle patrol chose Mildred Cagle, and Marion Chapman; The Star Patrol, Mary McDonald Kittrell, patrol leader, and Mary Virginia Terry, assistant.

After these elections were over, the next thing in the Scouts' mind was an over night hike. As there are thirty-five in the troop, it was necessary for the troop to be divided into two patrols to each hike. The Black Panther and Eagles have decided upon October 9 for their hike, while next week the Blue Birds and Star patrols are going on theirs.

POSSE IN QUEST OF OLIVER SUSTAIN AUTO ACCIDENT TUESDAY

Sheriff Monti and Two Deputies Treated At Hospital—F. E. Bee and Wife In Other Car Hurt—Remain at Hospital.

While out on a manhunt shortly before noon Tuesday, Sheriff Claude Monti, Chief Deputy Sheriff F. J. Bopp and Special Deputy Morris Wheat, riding in a police car, and while siren whistle was blowing for a clearway, a car occupied by Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Bee, resident on the Highway Trail, near the city, both vehicles collided and all five were injured. Both cars were partly wrecked.

Mr. and Mrs. Bee were taken to the hospital where it was found Mrs. Bee had sustained a severe cut in her head, lacerated legs and possibly fractured ribs. Her husband received a possible fracture of the skull and severe cuts over the eyes. Both were badly shaken and bruised bodily.

Sheriff Monti, Deputy Sheriff Bopp and Deputy Wheat were severely bruised. The five were taken to the King's Daughters Hospital, this city, where their injuries were dressed.

The three officers were able to leave a short while after and continued in their pursuit for their man, Mark Oliver, who, it was said, was somewhere in the local area.

Mr. and Mrs. Bee, however, severely injured, were attended to by Dr. Wolfe who operated on both in due time and made them as comfortable as possible at the hospital where they remained.

Earlier in the morning the authorities had reason to believe Oliver had been seen Tuesday morning in the vicinity of Edwardsville. This possible clue was not neglected, like all others, it was checked and investigated, and pursuit made, until all means were exhausted.

Another reason for the chase Tuesday noon proved to be no avail. But the authorities are leaving no stone unturned in their efforts to apprehend the man wanted. In the event he is not captured it will not be through any fault of any local officer and their deputies. Harrison county officials, too, are on the alert.

The objective is, Get Oliver.

PROMINENT RESIDENT PASSES ON

Frank Joseph Taconi, 69, Laid to Rest Sunday Afternoon—Member Of W. O. W.

Answering the last summons, Frank Joseph Taconi, native Bay St. Louisian, aged 69 years, 15 days, passed away at his residence in St. John street, Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, following a long illness which recently became acute and took its toll.

Last rites were held Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the late residence, with the Rev. Patrick Moran, assistant to the pastor of the church of Our Lady of the Gulf, where the ceremony was held and finally at Cedar Rest cemetery. Here the body was tenderly laid to rest and the freshly-built mound was later covered with many beautiful flowers as a tribute to the memory of the deceased and a tribute to his worth and also in sympathy to the bereaved ones.

Decease is survived by his wife, who, before her marriage, was Miss Rose Bares, a resident of Bay St. Louis at the time and prior to that of New Orleans.

He was a son of the late Frank Taconi, native of Italy, and Sidonia Thiery, native of France. Surviving, in addition to the widow, are four brothers, Charles P., James, August and John Taconi, all residents of this city, August Taconi at one time street commissioner.

A sister, Julie Taconi, wife of former Mayor John T. McDonnell, resident of Pass Christian, also survives.

Mr. Taconi was an active member of the Catholic faith and at various times identified with the various activities of the community. He was for years and up to the time of his passing a member of Cedar Grove Camp, Woodmen of the World, No. 507, members of the organization attending his funeral in a body.

Consistently adhering to every principle that makes for an ideal and highly respected citizen as well as one of usefulness, Mr. Taconi was best known for many successful qualities. Free from guile, ever sincere and open in all dealings he was a man of outstanding type, of one who loved his home, his town and his people. His passing away is an occasion of sorrow. It is a loss to Bay St. Louis as we knew it yesterday as a cherished memory and of today as we are proud to call it the place of home and community.

The widow has the sympathy of the many and the Taconi family as well—from friends and acquaintances here and along the Coast and in New Orleans where the family has many friends and acquaintances.

ANSLEY SUSTAINS INJURIES

Resident Manager Mississippi Power Company In Auto Accident

M. Luther Ansley, resident manager for the Mississippi Power Company, is at the Bay St. Louis King's Daughters hospital, suffering from injury sustained in an automobile accident on the bi-county bridge Saturday night.

Mr. Ansley's main injury is a broken leg, and will be set after the swelling will have disappeared. From best of information obtainable at the time, it appears an auto disabled and driven by Junior Arnold was parked to one side of the bridge to be reconditioned while another car was coming towards the Ansley car in full speed. To avoid the on-coming machine Ansley was forced to the side and hit the Arnold car. Arnold escaped with comparatively slight injury.

Ansley was taken to Gulfport Sunday in the Fahey ambulance for X-ray examination.

He is resting doing quite well, according to report from hospital and his full recovery is a matter of time, it was further stated. Friends may see Mr. Ansley at the hospital.

"Has anyone seen Kelly?" has been substituted for "Has anyone here seen Oliver?" since the jail break and get-away at Gulfport Saturday evening at about 6 o'clock when Mark Oliver of Bay St. Louis who is reported to have slugged the jailer while receiving blankets for the night and made good his escape.

Mark Oliver, of this city, indicted and convicted in Hancock county, with having participated on the night of September 5, with kidnapping Joseph R. Schaff and taking him to his store where four other men were also charged and indicted for robbing the merchant to the extent of some four hundred and odd dollars in cash.

Oliver, with Montalbano and Glynn, each under sentence to serve five years in the Mississippi state penal farm at Parchman, were incarcerated in the Harrison county jail, for safekeeping, awaiting the arrival of a traveling sergeant from headquarters.

Although an unceasing manhunt, inaugurated by the forces of both sheriff's offices in Hancock and Harrison counties, with the utmost vigilance, Oliver has not as yet been apprehended and is at large. However, it is possible, officials say the fugitive from justice may be caught in the wide net that has been spread at any time.

The Escape
Slugging Night Jailer Hugh Latimer of the Gulfport jail over the head and obtaining the keys to the outer doors of the jail, made good his escape. Two other members of Oliver's party convicted of the same crime, who pleaded guilty and, too, were also given five years, made no attempt to escape, according to a statement made by jailer Tom Craig, who so reported after making an inquiry into the matter.

Back Saw Found
The hack saw used by Oliver in sawing the hinge on the hump of his cell door was found where other prisoners told Jailer Craig, Oliver had hidden it.

Oliver was dressed, Mr. Craig said in Khaki clothing that had been brought to him earlier Saturday by Mrs. Lillie Krankey, Bay St. Louis woman, who was one of the defense witnesses at the trial when Oliver was convicted.

Oliver disappeared in the shadows of the night and, according to report, it is said there was an automobile waiting in the distance, in which the figure of a man was noticed seated. It is suspected that in this car Oliver made his escape.

The alarm was soon sounded and a hunt that has continued ever since by authorities of two counties has been kept up. The vigil has never relaxed.

On Lookout Sunday Night
Bay St. Louis terminus of the Hancock-Harrison county bridge presented an animated scene Sunday night when patrol officers and county authorities of both Hancock and Harrison counties watched this side of the bridge. All cars traveling westward into the city were halted and searched and the driver questioned.

It had been given as "tip" that Oliver was on his way home Sunday night in quest of belongings and every avenue of entrance was watched. The report was to the effect from one, a former prisoner, who said he knew because Oliver had said so, that such an entrance would be attempted.

Montalbano and Glynn, admitted, however, they assisted Oliver in making his get-away by helping to bind four other prisoners in order the alarm would not be spread. The escape immediately happened after jailer Craig had left to go down, leaving the night jailer, Latimer, in charge.

From Gulfport came versions of a group of firemen and police officers of that city who rushed to the scene in response to cries of help from Latimer and a colored woman, trusty prisoner in the jail, as to just how the escape was effected differ somewhat to that gleaned by Jailer Craig from fellow prisoners of Oliver in an official investigation.

According to the reports given out by the jailer following an investigation by him and Sheriff Oscar Meador, Oliver escaped through the front door of the jail after obtaining the keys from night guard, Latimer, whom he had slugged with his fist as the elderly night jailer in response to Oliver's request for some blankets went to Oliver's cell to give him the additional bed covering.

Hasp Hinge Sawed Away
Investigation disclosed, said Jailer Craig, that prior to escape Oliver had sawed the arms of a hinge on the hasp of the inner door of the cell and when Latimer opened the outer door, pulling Latimer inside

CITY INCUMBENTS WIN.

SATURDAY'S primary election was decisive and clean-cut. The will of the majority was favorable to the city incumbents. With the present tenure to be continued for another four years the city and its people will enjoy the benefit of one of the best administrations it has been our fortune and privilege to enjoy.

Carried by such emphatic majorities there is no room for doubt. It is an endorsement of an administration that has proven one of forward pace. Of intelligent and economic application. The ship of state has been steered from the dangers of rocks through a sea of depression. No debt has been saddled on the tax-payers. On the contrary, no new indebtedness was incurred and while some of the bond issues of former years have been refinanced, many of the bonds have been duly retired. That of the main school building bonded obligation completely discharged and given a clean slate.

Remaining bonded debt is comparatively small and is destined to be taken care of in due time.

It is well to congratulate the mayor and commissioners on their victory last Saturday for it serves both as a commendation and endorsement. With four years more to go we expect great accomplishment and have no hesitancy in saying our expectations will not fall short.

A safe and intelligent government by experienced executives is a valuable asset to any community and Bay St. Louis is justly proud of the fact that the future of the city will continue in functioning under the same conservative and intelligent guidance which has marked it in the past.

And it has been a progressive one as well, even though the treasury is well taken care of nothing has suffered as might if the policy of spending had been a penurious one.

Bay St. Louis is on the threshold of a great future. There is much work to be done. That time is at hand. And we are glad and feel safe to entrust it to the hands of the gentlemen composing the Board of Mayor and Commissioners.

THE LESSON OF THALBERG'S MILLIONS

FORTUNES are made overnight. Others come down through the industrial and talented endeavors of generations. From people who earn and save.

Norma Shearer, screen star, became probably the richest cinema actress in the world when she was named the principal heiress to the estate, unofficially estimated at $10,000,000, of her husband, the late Irving Thalberg, film director and producer.

Thalberg's will filed for probate at Los Angeles, said in part:

"My wife shall and must elect whether she will take and receive the benefits which are provided for her under this will, or the rights and property interest which the law invests her in and to our community property."

The will mentioned specific sums of safeguarded benefits for his parents, relatives, his children and his children's children.

Ten millions is a sum of money hard to fully visualize. But as gigantic as it is, the vast sum was earned by one who had ability and willingness to work and who made the best of opportunity. Fortune comes to those who work. It is with this kind it remains. Dollars of this sort are seldom winged. They remain with those who earn and save.

The moral is: Earn and save. Depend not on others. Their money is not yours. It can never be. Thalberg gives a lesson.

IN QUEST OF ESCAPED PRISONER.

THE escape of one who had been only a few days previously convicted of a holdup and store robbery in this city, while incarcerated in the jail of a neighboring county awaiting the arrival of the penitentiary traveling sergeant, brings to mind the necessity of taking no chances and of safeguarding to a greater extent all possible avenues of escape.

It was quite a surprise when the news came from Gulfport that jail had been broken, the jailer slugged and that one whose imprisonment had been most desired had escaped. Nothing could have proven more disconcerting. Ever since the minions of the law have engaged in a general manhunt over this section.

There is no room for criticism. These things happen. But in future it will be well to take no chances, but to double all safety requirements and to improve vigilance.

The danger of escaped prisoners, convicted, gives room for a most dangerous hazard. If apprehended the hope is expressed that no loss of life nor injury will be sustained. However, the hope is universally expressed that the quest for the fugitive will be short and the men from both the sheriff's offices in Hancock and Harrison counties will be successful in their pursuit. Their combined untiring efforts are deserving of success.

This has been a busy week—for radio and radio listeners. Baseball fans have been given close ear world series returns. Soon these broadcasts will be succeeded by the Saturday returns of another great sport, football. It is a healthy sign when a people take interest in outdoor sports.

Unemployment is national problem but going to work for a living is the problem that some people face.

OLD AGE PENSION RACKET.

THE day of the racket is here. There are all kinds. We have them over the land, in every section, even at home. Even though they appear and are practiced in various guises. Perhaps there is no racket more prevalent than that of collecting funds from the aged and gullible for the further propagation of procuring so-called security for old age. There are various publications circulated in the interest of old age pensions. The subscription prices are small, from a dime up. But in the aggregate millions of dimes total big sums.

The so-called old age pension orator, organizers of societies for further social security legislation, to pay the cost of propaganda, etc., take heavy toll over the country from the age who will part from their last penny in compliance with literature and other media of publicity rampant over the nation.

A subscriber of this newspaper, a lady in arrears and who has reached the age limit making her eligible for the $200 per month pension, said to this writer: "Do not discontinue my subscription. I will pay you for I am expecting my two-hundred-dollar per month pension money any time." It developed this good woman owns her home, free from incumbrance, is able to work and has grown children who are likewise situated and her hopes were blasted when she was informed of her ineligibility to such free money periodically. She was told it would be necessary to take the pauper oath.

In this connection the following from the Jackson News is not amiss:

It would be an act of kindness to the aged in Mississippi if Prof. W. F. Bond, director of the social security program, would issue a letter warning people against persons who are collecting funds on the pretense that the money is to be used in a campaign to compel the legislature to meet the full Federal pro rata of $15 per month for old age pensions.

Promoters of the so-called Old Age Pension Clubs cannot do a blessed thing in behalf of a larger appropriation for pensions. They are without any semblance of influence in the lawmaking body.

When Mississippi is able to increase the old age pension pro rata the legislature will do so, and not before, regardless of how many clubs may be organized or how much agitation is staged.

Nevertheless, the racketeering among the aged and infirm victims goes steadily on and there is no legal way to stop it.

BRIDGE AND SHORTCUT.

A SUBSCRIBER residing in Illinois writes The Echo to ascertain the condition of the N. O.-Bay St. Louis Shortcut and also the condition of the Bay St. Louis bi-county bridge. "Your columns contained so much some time back regarding the loose condition of the decking of this bridge that I am wondering if the bridge by this time is passable."

Yes, lady; the bridge is passable. You may take the contemplated trip South and include this section in your itinerary.

The Bay bridge decking was recently doubly fastened with a series of heavy bolts, double clinched; and at present the highway department is finishing a hard-surfaced topping that equals the finest roadways in the country.

As to the Shortcut, dear lady, you will see that for yourself. It is well high perfect and has much to commend itself to the traveling public. You may take a trip to New Orleans in slightly over an hour's time (sane driving) and return likewise. It is not necessary to leave at the early morning hour in order to be home before dark. You may leave Bay St. Louis any time of the day and be back home within a comparative short time. It takes as short a time as from the loop in Chicago to the Edgewater hotel or to Evanston proper.

Our roadways are in fine shape and invite the outsiders. Soon Mississippi, with the expenditure of the forty million dollars at its command, will have the finest highways in the country and there will be a constant caravan of motorists from North to South all during the fall and winter months and permissible at other seasons as well.

TOO LATE.

THE Biloxi News deprecates the jail break, "the first in some years in Harrison county."

That newspaper editorially says, "It is going to be difficult to keep the prisoners in the jail in future. One man has shown the others that it is not such a hard job to get away."

"This man, who has offended society, has gone out into the world, probably to continue his activities as a menace to society. Harrison county cannot afford to have the reputation of being a place where the criminal can escape justice. Such is an invitation to other criminals—more desperate, perhaps—to bring their activities here. A remedy must be affected." Sounds like closing the stable after the horse is gone. But the incident will prove of value to the extent more precaution, at least will be taken in future.

It is probable the man was placed in the Harrison jail for better safe-keeping than his own county housework. But the best of intentions, like plans, sometime go awry.

There is not time for lamentation over what happened. It behooves, as it will, the authorities to take cognizance of what happened in the thought and intention that it will not occur again.

WHERE THE FISH BITE.

REPORTS from all sections of Coast and tributary waters are to the effect fish are biting.

This is of interest to many. To some it arouses no attention. However, the biggest sport industry is fishing. Men travel many miles and never snitch on spending when it comes to fishing.

October is a golden month in more ways than one. But to the fisherman it means a plenty. Numerous catches are reported from a local section. Pearl river, Jordan river and the various bayous in Hancock and Bay St. Louis gulf waters yield abundant catches.

People live on the Coast and nearby for various reasons. Climatic, educational and other advantages; for health's sake, beauty of scenery, etc. But don't forget one of the factors included is that of fishing.

Florida has capitalized mainly on fishing! Thousands of people go there annually.

"Also, IT'S TRUE! that 'The Screen Boys' Club, limited to youngsters under sixteen who have at least three motion picture roles to their credit, has been organized with Freddie Bartholomew, Bennie Bartlett, Jackie Cooper, David Holt, Billie Lee, Mickey Rooney, Sherwood Bailey, and Buster Slaven as charter members!"

WHAT THE PRESS IS SAYING OF MEN AND MATTERS IN EDITORIAL EXPRESSION

DOINGS OF ONE-TERMER.

(Jackson Daily News)

HERE'S the latest news from the Pipe Dream House. One-Term Bilbo is going to become a columnist in his home county paper, the Poplarville Free Press which changed a few days since and is now edited by C. H. Jones. He will write one article each week for publication in that paper. His family of readers will necessarily be limited, but One-Term is yearning for self-expression, even if he has to get it in the depths of a virgin forest or the heart of a Pearl river swamp.

One-Term has cut down a dying cedar tree on the front lawn of the Pipe Dream House, from the timber of which he intends to make, with his own hands, some large cedar chests.

The rumor is not verified, but it is a rumor, nevertheless, that he intends to put Missed the Senate Corner in one of the cedar chests in order to keep him from being ravaged by moths before the next election. Moth balls would do just as well, but if One-Term prefers a cedar chest, that's his business.

One-Term spends a goodly portion of each day on the front veranda gazing out at his pecan orchard and waiting for the nuts to fall. The crop of nuts he tried to harvest during the Senatorial contest last summer was almost a total loss.

An inquisitive reader asks: "Can you tell me whether Bilbo will resume his cheek-to-cheek dancing lessons when he returns to Washington?" No information available on the subject thus far. However, it will not be surprising if Theodore bobs up during the winter carrying a cane, wearing spats, and having a monocle screwed into his left eye. One-Term is learning fast. During his first year in Washington he quit wearing red neckties and that famous diamond horseshoe pin with full evening dress.

Walter Winchell, columnist, who writes in language so lurid that nobody can understand, is whooping 'em up for London, and some newspapers actually pay real money for his sloppy stuff. As a political commentator, Winchell is almost as dull as Walter Lippman.

WOMEN AND WEALTH

(McComb Daily Enterprise)

MANY people seem to think that corporations are giant beasts that prey upon the public, draining it of its strength and fortune, and leaving it bled white of all riches.

This idea is rapidly diminishing although at one time it thwarted the growth and welfare of Mississippi.

It is interesting to note that 40 per cent of the stockholders of the Illinois Central Company are women. Not all widows, to be sure, but no doubt thousands of these women stockholders are either widows or old ladies who have either invested their life savings in railroad securities or who have inherited such property.

The American Telephone and Telegraph Company, one of the world's largest corporations, has 231,334 women stockholders. In fact, fifty-one per cent of all the

UNUSUAL SCHOOL SITUATION

(Starkville News)

THE cry for the past several years has been "Keep Mississippi boys in Mississippi schools."

That is very good but both of the state's leading institutions are now crowded and are turning boys away.

The campaign, to "keep Mississippi boys at home" has been so successful that the colleges cannot take care of them.

More dormitory room is needed both at State College and Ole Miss. The last regular session of the legislature turned down a request for funds with which to build new dormitories.

Officials of these two schools saw that more housing facilities would be needed and asked that the appropriation be made. But the legislature refused this request.

How can we keep our boys in state schools if we turn them away when they apply?

Unless the legislature makes provision for more dormitory space the schools in our sister states will grow and our two great colleges will go backward.

It is up to Governor White and the legislature to remedy this situation.

LARGEST IN HISTORY OF THE STATE

(Tupelo Daily News)

THE largest road letting in the history of the Mississippi highway department has been set for October 6, calling for disbursement of $3,000,000.

It will make the eleventh letting since the new paving program was launched.

This will bring about half of the $42,000,000 under contract, which will mean that Mississippi's paving program will be in full swing.

Thousands of men and boys are finding employment on highway jobs.

In fact Mississippi is witnessing what one might term a "boom."

Hundreds have found employment with governmental agencies.

Farmers are begging for hands to pick their cotton, which pays the laborer more than he can make on a WPA job.

With a shortage of teachers, girls and boys who finished colleges with a teacher's degree can find employment.

Mississippi held her own during the depression. And Mississippi and the South are pointing the way toward recovery today.

stock of the New York Central railroad and 43 per cent of the Union Pacific is in the hands of women. Fifty per cent of William Wrigley Company stock is owned by the ladies, and 45 per cent of Central Electric is in feminine control.

These facts were compiled and published in the October issue of the Rotarian, and speak with force the fact that the wealth of corporations is widely scattered.

Never Before Could You Telephone "Long Distance" So Cheaply as Now

The latest long distance rate reduction, effective September 1, was the seventh reduction voluntarily made by the Company in the past ten years, and will save telephone users many millions of dollars.

You can now talk on station-to-station service a distance of 50 miles for as little as 35c or 1000 miles for $1.65 and greater or less distances at a correspondingly low cost.

Telephoning is the quick, easy, economical and personal way to keep in close touch with out-of-town relatives and friends. There is no more satisfactory and pleasing way to extend sympathy or congratulations, greetings or invitations to out-of-town friends and acquaintances, than by long distance telephone.

Isn't there someone, somewhere, father, mother, brother, sister or friend who would be made happier by hearing your voice and talking to you tonight? Ask "Long Distance" for rates.

THE ECHO'S COOKING CLASS

Dedicated to Mrs. K. W. Pepperdene

CREAM puffs and eclairs are not hard to make, in fact they are most simple if the right proportion and right directions are followed. The only difference in the cream puffs and the eclairs is the shape in which they are baked and in the filling and frosting that are used. Cream puffs are round, filled with whipped cream or a custard and then dusted with confectioners sugar. Eclairs are oblong, they may be filled with chocolate cream custard or whipped cream. The tops are covered with a frosting, usually chocolate.

Recipe for Cream Puffs and Eclairs

1/2 cup butter
1 cup boiling water
1-8 teaspoon salt
1 cup flour
4 eggs

Melt butter in boiling water. When again-boiling, add flour and salt. Stir rapidly until mixture cleaves from the side of the pan. Remove from fire, cool, add one of the eggs and beat until smooth. Beat vigorously for a few moments longer. In similar manner add the remaining eggs one at a time, beating well after each egg is added. After all the eggs have been added beat the mixture well for three minutes. Longer beating will improve the mixture. Shape on greased baking sheet. Bake in oven 450 degrees for twenty minutes, decrease heat to 350 degrees and bake for 30 minutes.

Custard Filling

1/2 cup sugar
1 1/2 teaspoons flour
1 1/2 teaspoon cornstarch
2 eggs slightly beaten
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 cups milk

Mix sugar with flour, cornstarch, salt and enough milk to make a smooth batter. Add to the remaining milk which has been scalded. Cook until mixture thickens, stirring constantly. Place over hot water and continue cooking for 10 minutes longer, stirring occasionally. Add eggs and beat until they thicken slightly. Remove from the fire and add flavoring.

The tops of well risen puffs are always uneven and seamed. A cut may be made along one of the cracks and a small portion of the top removed. The custard or cream may be put in the puffs and the tops replaced. Dust with confectioners sugar.

Eclairs

The dough from an éclair is shaped into a long strip and then baked as a cream puff. Fill the center with custard given above or whipped cream. Cover with chocolate frosting.

Chocolate Frosting

Two squares of chocolate
One tablespoon hot water
One egg well beaten
1/2 cup confectioners sugar.
1/4 cup butter

Melt the chocolate over hot water in a double boiler. Add water, sugar and egg, beat well. Let it stand over hot water several minutes. Cool to lukewarm. Add butter a tablespoon at a time stirring until smooth, spread on eclairs.

'Anthony Adverse' To Be Presented at A. & G. Sunday and Monday

The long awaited Warner Bros. production of "Anthony Adverse," filmed from Hervey Allen's cyclopaen novel, which boasts of 3,000,000 readers, comes to the A. & G. Theater Sunday and Monday, with Fredric March in the stellar role and Olivia de Havilland playing opposite him in the feminine lead.

In its panoramic story sweep thru five countries and three continents, the magnitude of its 131 sets, the picturesqueness of its backgrounds, the gigantic scale on which it was produced and the vast number of talented players in its cast, "Anthony Adverse" surpasses any picture filmed by Warner Bros., and is said by those who have seen the preview to be the most pretentious piece of entertainment ever attempted in Hollywood.

The novel, which took Hervey Allen four years to write, was finally whittled into its finished screen form after more than two years of arduous labor on the part of nearly 3,000 technicians, in addition to more than 2,500 players who portray the many characters seen in the film.

In dynamic action, intense drama, glamorous romance and thrilling adventure, probably no story was ever better fitted for screen material. And Warner Bros. are said to have caught all the vividness, the fire and color of the original and to have transmitted it to the film.

The cast is a tremendous one in size and remarkable for the number of talented players, there being ninety parts, with 2,550 bit players and extras appearing. Besides March and Miss de Havilland, some of the more important players include Edmund Gwenn, Claude Rains, Anita Louise, Louis Hayward, Gale Sondergaard, Steffi Duna, Billy Mauch, Donald Woods, Akim Tamiroff, Ralph Morgan, Henry O'Neill, Pedro de Cordoba, George E. Stone and Luis Alberni.

THE State Highway Note Commission

advised several days ago for sealed bids on the sale of $5,600,000.00 of highway notes, bids to be received on Thursday of this week, or October 8th. When these notes have been sold and the money realized, the sum will be matched at the ratio of five to four by the Federal Government, which will bring in for highway construction purposes approximately ten million dollars.

The executive committee of the Mississippi Department of School Superintendents held a meeting in Jackson some days ago to set a date for the annual convention of the Superintendents, which date was fixed for Friday and Saturday, November 20-21st, at Jackson. Included in this meeting will be high school superintendents, those of consolidated schools, of separate school districts, and county superintendents.

The annual meeting of the gasoline and oil dealers of the state scheduled to be held in Jackson on October 21st, according to Herbert Nunery, secretary of the Mississippi Petroleum Industries Committee. That date will also be "oil dealers' day" at the Big Mississippi State Fair, and several prominent speakers are mentioned on the program.

The joint committee authorized by the 1936 legislature to investigate the gasoline tax collections, etc., and which committee was continued by the authority of the recent extraordinary session, resumed its work at Jackson on Tuesday, October 6th. The committee is composed of Senators J. S. Watson of Lexington, Joe Cook of Columbus, G. B. Herring of Canton, John Culkin of Vicksburg, and Representative Oscar Wolfe of Duncan, E. W. Clinton of Sumrall, J. A. Phillips of Macon, and E. B. Livingston of Morton.

The state board of nursing examiners held their annual examination for nurses at Jackson last Monday, October 6th. Some 50-odd nurses took the examination before the Board, which consists of Dr. Felix J. Underwood, President; Alice W. Finley, Tupelo; Bertie Jones, Sanatorium; Mary Trigg, Greenwood; and Mary Dorsey, of Greenville.

The state board of examiners for school teachers of the state completed the examinations for white teachers last week and mailed approximately 1500 teachers licenses to applicants. The Board consists of G. W. McClendon of Newton, Troy Morgan of Flora, and S. L. Stringer of Crosby.

The State Board of Election Commissioners, composed of Governor Hugh White, Attorney General Leroy R. Rice, and Secretary of State Walker Wood, signed and mailed out commissions to the respective boards of county election commissioners for the eighty-two counties last week. Each county board consists of three members who will serve until August 31, 1938.

At a recent meeting of the State Bar Commissioners, composed of one member from each of the seven circuit court districts of the state, Mrs. Alice Nevels of Jackson was re-elected as secretary of the state bar association; Ben H. McFarland of Aberdeen was named as complaint commissioner; and a number of other committees were named.

This week, that of October 4-10th, has been set aside as "Fire Prevention Week," by proclamation of President Roosevelt, and Governor Hugh White has joined the President in this movement, by proclaiming that the week be observed for this splendid purpose, throughout the State of Mississippi. The Governor urges the people of each community to individually and through various organizations to discover and correct existing fire hazards and promote measures for the prevention of fires.

$10,000 Left Church For Belfry Chimes At Jackson, Miss.

As a result of philanthropy of the late R. H. Green, not disclosed until Tuesday, the St. Andrews Episcopal church of Jackson is to have a $10,000 carillon, or chime of bells, installed in its belfry on Capitol street. The bequest was not included in the Green will which was filed for probate in Hinds County chancery court Monday, but was provided for in a separate insurance policy.

Biop Theodore Dubose Bratton and Mrs. Hattie Greaves Erskine of Jackson were named as trustees of the carillon fund.

Mr. Green, a wealthy bachelor merchant, was a member of the vestry at St. Andrews, and served as a junior warden in the church. He died last Friday.

Deeply appreciative and thankful of the splendid vote given me in last Saturday's primary election, I wish to hereby express how grateful I feel. There is much satisfaction in knowing that my present administration is unmistakably endorsed.

As in the past, I will continue in my endeavor to serve the public, one and all; always striving to serve the most for the larger number of people and to the mutual advantage of both city and tax-payers as well as others.

Our city is on the eve of a great revival of prosperity and with a continuance of the splendid co-operation we have received, myself and associates hope to accomplish more now that we have the endorsement and moral backing of so many of the citizens.

Very sincerely yours,
G. Y. BLAIZE, Mayor,
Bay St. Louis, Miss., Oct. 5, 1936.

It is pleasing to note that the city administration has met with so liberal endorsement as indicated by the generous vote of last Saturday's primary. I want to express through the columns of our local newspaper, my thanks to one and all who in any way helped to make my selection by so large a majority.

It has been a genuine pleasure to work for the city and its best interests at all times and with the continued assistance of the public I plan to perform the work to the best of my ability and the fullest time possible I may be able to give the office.

There is a great deal of work ahead for the city and it will be with renewed vigor and interest we will administer to same.

Always willing to serve one and all, as in the past, I remain,
Very sincerely,
W. L. BOURGEOIS,
Commissioner.
Bay St. Louis, Miss., Oct. 5, 1936.
